MORELAND SCHOOL DISTRICT TAX QUESTION TO BE DECIDED TODAY

Question of whether Moreland School District gets its proposed 60 cent tax rate increase or not will be decided in today's election when voters go to the polls at Moreland School, Payne Avenue and Saratoga Raod.

School district board of trustees seek to up the rate from the present 90 cents a hundred dollars assessed valuation to $1.50 to counter decreased California State aid and to eliminate double session teaching.

Moreland citizens have organized a group opposing the increase on the grounds that this boost would be only one of a series in an already heavy tax burden. They also fear tax money would not go towards construction of a new kindergarten which residents of the Quito Park deem desirable. Moreland citizens against the proposal say that legislation is pending which will relieve school districts through increased state aid.

At a mass meeting held Tuesday night, Dr. Bonnie, district division of education, outlined the school need of Moreland district with facts and figures which indicated the Moreland situation is no different from any other fast-growing school district.

Main topic brought out in the talk was that school enrollment has quadrupled in the last three or four years, that tax money backing each student had decreased as well as the purchasing power of the dollar, which since 1946, has dropped 30 percent. Bonnie said that tax money behind each student ten years ago was in excess of $9,000, while today it is less than $4,500.

ANNEXATION TACTICS CONDEMNED

Recent annexation by the city of San Jose of Willow Glen No. 10, a 400-acre tract contiguous to Cambrian Park, in spite of protests filed by the City of Campbell, school districts involved and residents of Cambrian Park, is one more example of the land-grabbing policy of the city of San Jose to which the Press has so strenuously objected in the past. It was one of the major reasons we advanced for the incorporation of the city of Campbell.

We vehemently object to laws which permit such annexation policies in the face of overwhelming objection from persons and institutions affected.

The city of Campbell and the Campbell Press are opposed to this or any other land-grabbing of similar nature that seeks to absorb the identity of an area that has no wish to annex or is denied the right to decide who or what shall govern it.

Campbell residents are fearful that this is another attempt to bind Campbell on the East and South, and to prevent future southwestern advances of the City of Campbell should residents of that area request or desire it.

The city attorney of the City of Campbell has interpreted the Government code of the State of California dealing with annexations of contiguous uninhabited territory that lies within three miles of an incorporated area, as meaning any parcel of land, any portion of which lies within three miles of an incorporated area. If such conditions exist, consent to annex must be obtained from the incorporated area.

The city of San Jose made no attempt to obtain the consent of the city of Campbell and has ignored registered protests from Cambrian School District and Cambrian Men's Club.

The city attorney of the City of San Jose has interpreted that section of the code containing provisions for registering protests to mean that only property owners whose holdings were involved were entitled to legal protest.

The annexation move destroys four years of schoolhouse planning, disrupts Cambrian area fire protection service, encroaches on the possible future boundaries of the City of Campbell, and caters to the wishes of the few at the expense of the majority.

The Press unalterably condemns the practice as undemocratic and wishes to go on record as supporting recommendations to block future annexation moves which threaten the City of Campbell.

SO. WILLOW GLEN ANNEXATION ADOPTED BY S. J. MONDAY EVENING

South Willow Glen No. 10, an approximately 400-acre uninhabited tract near Cambrian Park, became a part of San Jose Monday night in spite of indignant protests from representative Cambrian Park residents, the City of Campbell, and interested school district spokesmen.

The annexation ordinance was adopted after San Jose City Councilman Robert C. Doerr, failed to obtain a second to a motion which would have killed the measure.

The ordinance will become effective 37 days after adoption i certified by the Secretary of State

The annexation was strongly opposed by the City of Campbell Board of Fire Commissioners of Central Fire District, Cambrian Elementary School District, Campbell School district and organized groups of the Cambrian Park area.

San Jose City Attorney Robert E. Cassin's ruling of the California Government Code denied legal status to protests offered.

Spokesmen for the property owner subdividers who, according to Cassin, under the Uninhabited Territory Act were the only ones entitled to legal protest, asserted their right to benefit by sewage disposal, police and fire protection and other services offered by annexation.

Cambrian Elementary School district condemned the annexation, claiming it would spell financial ruin for the district and its building plans.

The area to be annexed joins the city at Husted Avenue and the extension of Booksin Avenue. It is contiguous to Cambrian Park at Camden and Union Avenue.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PLEDGES TO WORK WITH CITY OFFICIALS

Homer Hyde, chairman of the police commission of the Chamber of Commerce, the governing body of the Campbell Merchant Patrol, will appear before the Campbell City Council Monday night concerning police protection being offered the city by the patrol for which it is not being paid.

Chamber of Commerce, which has recently elected incoming officers Mario Saia, president; Joseph Agostinho, vice-president; Arthu Mayo, treasurer, and Dave Ribble and Dr. Robert Jasmine, directors has also picked its committees to operate in the coming year.

Arthur Mayo will head the finance committee; Les Harmon is in charge of membership; Ollie Jensen will head the Public Improvement committee and Eugene W. Barnes is in charge of public relations and publicity.

Attendance will be in charge of Dave Ribble, while Harold Estensen will head the merchant's committee.

The police committee head is still open pending the resignation of Hyde after he represents the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting Monday night.

Fred Jones is in charge of the fire committee.

Mario Saia, new president, said he will do everything in his power to promote good business in the city and will cooperate with the city council in matters of mutual interest to both the city and the Chamber of Commerce.

To Hold Social, Pot Luck Meet

CITY COUNCIL REOPENS HEARING; DISCUSSES ZONING PROBLEMS AND FIRE DEPARTMENT CONSIDERATIONS

The makings of heated controversy dissolved Monday night at the City Council meeting when Alexander Bache withdrew his application for a commercial burning permit on the Lena Campisi property on San Jose-Los Gatos Road near Los Gatos Creek in the face of overwhelming opposition from residents of the area.

More than 50 persons appeared, with spokesman Attorney John Chargin to protest issuance of the permit.

Bache withdrew his permit application when investigation of the property boundary apparently involved three separate owners and in the face of the strong opposition.

City council approved a use permit for Vincent Carbone and Pete J. Parlato, who propose to build a shopping center on Winchester Road between Hamilton Avenue and Rosemary Lane, subject to recommendations of the city engineer Mark Thomas, and city attorney, Joseph A. Bonacina.

Attorney Wade Hover, representing Carbone and Parlato, said the County Planning Commission and the Board of Supervisors have already approved a permit including definite restrictions as to plot plan and general layout. Hover requested the council to insure that if the property were to be sold, it be recognized as commercial property subject to terms already agreed upon. "The owners have no immediate building plans," Hover said.

Because he had already represented the applicants, Mayor Richard W. Morton disqualified himself from discussing or voting on the matter.

The area around Rosemary Lane, which is in the fire district, but outside city limits, will probably receive the two fire hydrants located there as part payment for the physcal assets of the fire district on which the section holds a two percent claim. City Attorney Bonacina was directed to draw up a resolution dissolving Campbell Fire District pending operation of City fire protection service.

Matters to be brought before the next council meeting Monday evening include:

An informal discussion of a proposed subdivision by Eugene Kuenis, represented by Don Stone of Schulte Robinson and Stone.

Recommendations of City attorney and city engineer on Carbone-Parlato application.

City engineer's recommendations on Smith subdivision tract, 998.

Buiding application for new Congregational church on West Campbell Avenue.

500 NEW HOMES SLATED FOR MORELAND AREA

In an interview with the Press yesterday, J. Bradley Clayton, president of James A. Clayton and Company, who recently purchased 140 acres of the Old Quito Rancho at the northeast corner of Saratoga-Santa Clara and Campbell Avenues, in the Moreland district said he does intend to build a 500-home subdivision there.

"It won't be for some time yet," said the buyer. "Probably not till winter, because preliminary surveys have to be taken and we have to comply with regulations set up by the County Planning Commission."

"We definitely plan to build though," Clayton said, "But as I said, getting the surveying work done will take at least two months and there may be complications with the Planning Commission, but if our present plans work out, we should start to build along about November or December."

Title search of the property was handled by San Jose Abstract & Title Insurance Co. and Western Title Insurance and Guaranty Co.

'ALUMNI'

By Jean Standish
(Readers are invited to contribute to this column.)

Television was only a dream when Ruth Matteson was a little girl attending Cambrian school, and Broadway footlights seemed a world away from Campbell. Ruth lived on a poultry ranch on the Los Gatos road, near Redding Road, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Matteson, and her three sisters and two brothers.

Ruth was beautiful, her voice was very sweet, and she had a remarkable dramatic talent, as her teacher, Miss Philoma Goldsworthy, observed. Ruth played the title role in "Snow White" at the Cambrian School and thus began a career which has taken her to Broadway, to Hollywood and to theatres in many cities, and has lately brought her image to thousands of television screens.

Is 1927, when she was a senior at Campbell Union High school, Ruth sang the feminine lead in the student body operetta, "In the Garden of the Shah," opposite Richard Lynden and supported by a cast including Steven Merrill. "Her music hath charms, and so hath she," the "Oriole" epigrammatist wrote besides Ruth's lovely photograph. The yearbook further stated that she hoped to be an actress. Her direction and destination were prescribed.

After graduation from CUHS, Ruth attended San Jose State College for a short while, then went to Portland, Oregon, joined the Henry Duffy stock company, and married a member if the cast, who was a dramatist as well as an actor. After two seasons in stock, the couple moved to Hollywood, where Ruth appeared in several pictures.

"Campbell's star" has acted in numerous Broadway plays, notably 'Parnell," "One for the Money," "Tomorrow the World," "Triumph," and "Winged Victory"—in the last named, with Katherine Cornell. "The Merry Widow" brought Ruth, as well as the leads, Jan Kiepura and Marta Egert, from New York to the San Francisco Civic Auditorium a few years ago.

While in New York, Ruth studied drama at Columbia University and later visited Europe with her husband.

"The American Magazine" for April, 1952, carried Ruth Matteson's picture and the story of her role in the newest dramatic medium, television. In "Fairmeadows, USA," NBC-TV's Sunday afternoon half-hour family drama, the Olcott family, with Ruth as Mother Olcott, have brought heartwarming entertainment to spectators of the living room screen.

Ruth enjoyed the Olcott series, now completed, but prefers to return to the legitimate stage. plans to do a Broadway play in the fall.

In private life, she is Mrs. Curt Peterson, wife of a television executive. The Petersons have recently purchased an old Connecticut estate of eight acres and are busily renovating the house and furnishing it with authentic period pieces. They also maintain an apartment on Fifth Avenue.

Last year the Petersons were in San Jose for a ten-day visit with Ruth's mother, who lives at 1087 Hazelwood Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Matteson came to Campbell in 1917, and Mrs. Matteson, now widowed, remained on the home ranch until she moved to San Jose three years ago. Mrs. Matteson is justly proud of her stellar daughter, but she is no less proud of the other five, who have all starred in their mother's eyes. Her second daughter, Dorothy, has recently been selected to play a very important role in the community life of Campbell.

Dorothy Matteson attended the Cambrian Grammar school, as did all her brothers and sisters. She was graduated from Los Gatos High school and majored in education at San Jose State College, where she received the degree of Master of Arts. She is president of the Teachers' Association of San Jose, and has been teaching at Trace School for several years.

Campbell residents, many of whom remember Dorothy as a small girl, cordially welcome her home as principal-to-be of the new Quito School, to open next Autumn. She is now Mrs. Dorothy Main, mother of Karen, 11, and Eddie, 7.

While in the East for a Teachers' Association convention last year, Dorothy visited her sister, Ruth.

The third of the Matteson girls is Mabel (Peggy), now Mrs. Ed Isler of Hollister. Mr. Isler is a representative of the Ditz Tractor Company. The Islers have two children, Barton, 11, and Danny, 8.

Like Ruth, Mabel was a singer and an actress in high school days. She was graduated from CUHS in 1934, and the "Oriole" of that year reports that she gave an admirable rendition of the leading role in the Spring operetta.

Youngest of the sisters, Yvonne, now Mrs. Walter Sutter, is secretary to C. C. Cottrell, San Jose attorney. The Sutters have a four year old son, Gary, and live on Vermont Street in San Jose.

Both of the Matteson boys attended Campbell Union High School for a time. Bert, the elder, gave his life in World War II. Earl Matteson is now a civil engineer in Palo Alto and is married to the former Paula Barbour.

Campbell BPWC Calls Attention To Flag Meaning

Public affairs committee of the Campbell Business and Professional Women's Club, as a public reminder, wish to call attention to the words of the late President Woodrow Wilson in honor of June 14, the day the nation celebrates the symbolism of the American Flag.

"This flag, which we honor and under which we serve, is the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give it fro mgeneration to generation. The choice is ourt. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute those choices, whether in peace or in war. And yet, though silent, it speaks to us—speaks to us of the pash, of the men and women who went before us, and of the records they wrote upon it.

"We celebrate the day of its birth; and from its birth until now it has witnessed a great history, has floated on high the symbol of great events, or a great plan of life worked out by a great people.

"Woe to the man or group of men, that seek to stand in our way on this day of high resolution, when every principle we hold dearest is to be vindicated and made secure for the salvation of the nation. We are ready to plead at the bar of history, and our flag shall wear a new luster. Once more we shall make good with our lives and fortunes the great faith to which we were born, and a new glory shall shine in the face of our people."

Gifts for Kelleen were presented in a yellow bassinet, and the hostesses served a pineapple chiffon dessert at a table prettily decorated with stock. Appropriate games completed the event. Present were Mesdames ROBERT F. FARRELL, JAMES CARDELLINO, STEVEN B. ADERSON, DELWYN HACK, EARL WRIGHT, TED BALGOOYEN, JOHN WHITE, EDWARD TABLAK, MELVIN NEUJAHR, D. E. NESBIT, EDWARD LITINSKY, SHERMAN LOMBARD, ROBERT BYE, WARREN CRINKLAW, THOMAS McNIFF, and ROBERT UELTZEN.

Mrs. A. F. Leal Entertains Club

The beautiful Seven Springs Ranch in Cupertino, managed by A. F. Leal, was the scene of the Campbell Garden Club's most recent meeting. Mrs. A. F. Leal, as hostess, served brunch to the club, and in the afternoon served punch and conducted a tour of the lovely estate.

Reports were made at the meeting on the trip made by the group to the Lester Rose Garden and the Dr. Oscar Marshall Rose Garden of Watsonville, which were pronounced exceptionally beautiful. It was announced that the club won first prize for the iris table at the Iris Society Show at Peter Burnett School and for the bride's table displayed at Hale's fashion show for the benefit of the Southfield Home of Benevolence.

Mrs. E. F. Kollmer spoke on her visit to the Hawaiian Islands, describing vividly the flora of the Territory. Mrs. Kollmer distributed seeds of Hawaiian flowers among the members for their gardens.

A round table discussion on perennials was held by Mesdames Peter Heinzen, A. Drake and Mary Trigueiro.

CAMPBELL POSTOFFICE BOASTS FIRST RURAL FREE DELIVERY SERVICE IN STATE'S HISTORY

By LOU MURPHY

Out of Campbell, shortly before noon, July 5, 1904, Ellis Preston chugged with a primitive, two-cylinder automobile piled high with mail sacks, the first motor vehicle to be used in the rural delivery service in the United States.

Over similar routes today, Dan A. Yeager and Howard J. Smith continue to drive the last of the rural free delivery routes in Campbell.

Yeager, a veteran in Santa Clara County postal service now drives the 25 miles of Route One. He has been on the job since 1920, and entered the service in 1916. For 31 years he has been secretary of the Eighth Congressional District Rural Letter Carrier's Association.

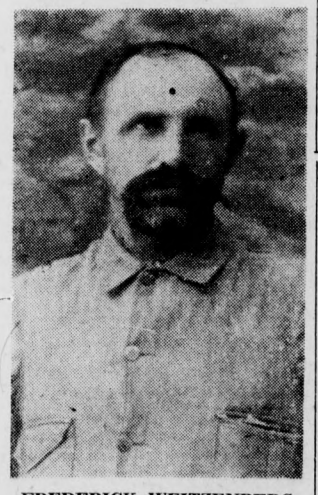
The driver for Route 2 is Howard J. Smith, who has been making his appointed rounds in this area for nearly eight years.

With the retirement of Yeager and Smith, a few years hence, a phase of American history in Campbell goes also, for the rural free delivery service practically started in this city.

Mrs. Charlotte W. Sutter, Campbell's keen-minded oldest resident, and herself once an acting postmistress, has records which show that Campbell rural free delivery service was the first of its kind in the West, part of an experiment which started in Jefferson County, West Virginia, October 1, 1896.

Mrs. Sutter's records also show that the Campbell area was picked because it was thickly populated and was the result of an appropriation rider introduced into the United States Congress by former Congressman E. A. Hayes.

The first rural route to come to Campbell February 1, 1897, Mrs. Sutter remembers, started from the village postoffice of postmaster Fred Weitzenberg, a returned soldier of the Boxer Rebellion in China.



FREDERICK WEITZENBERG
. . . Soldier Postmaster

His son, Will, who now lives at Dixon Way, Los Altos, carried the first 25-mile route on horseback. Other early carriers were Walter Dowton and Ellis Preston.

That coincides with memories of old-timers such as T. A. Cutting, Campbell historian; Mrs. Benjamin Campbell, descendant of the founder of the town, and with government records which also name P. M. Curtis as an early carrier.

However, a story in a local paper dated January 8, 1897, names Arthur Blocket and Ray Norton as the first two men on the routes.

Be that as it may, Will Weitzenberg says he was replaced by Mr. Preston, then proprietor of a bicycle shop on Campbell Avenue, where the I. O. McConnell Shell station now is, and next to the early building from which the Campbell Press was published for many years.

GARDEN SPOT — Mrs. Charlotte W. Sutter and postmaster brother G. L. Willet accept with aplomb the admiration of a cousin from the East amazed at the size of grapes grown in the "Orchard City."

Preston later moved to the corner of Campbell and First streets, where the Nelson Feed Store is now, and converted his bike shop into a garage.

According to old timers, Preston was public spirited and in the mornings, while sweeping the sidewalk in front of his shop, he would continue to sweep—sometimes clear to the railroad tracks.

Two-wheeled carts were used for carrying mail in the old days—the only all-weather vehicle available. And, according to Mrs. Sutter, bad roads were not the only difficulty the carriers had to contend with. She remembers seeing them struggle with bad-tempered horses and rainy weather, which made the lot of rural carriers not always an easy one.

There was satisfaction in the work, though," says Will Weitzenberg, "because the mail was so welcome, everyone was glad to see us."

One year after the rural free delivery service went into effect, according to a report filed by Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath, the Campbell service handled more mail than any other rural free delivery service in the United States.

The report mentioned that 1600 people in a 250-square mile area had service to the door or to a box near their house, by carriers covering the 25-mile routes. The cost of each piece of mail was 60 cents.

In Hartsville, Indiana, at the same time, a chart showed, the cost of $6.34 for each piece of mail handled.

But most people bore the expense gladly. Perry's report was filled with letter excerpts from satisfied customers.

Mrs. Sarah L. Winchester, for example, of eccentric house-building and Winchester rifle fame, who was served by Campbell carrier Will Weitzenberg, summed it up by saying, "The benefits of the rural free delivery service in my vicinity more than justify the expense."

The postoffice buildings from which the carriers were dispatched have grown from a single room in the home of Benjamin Campbell to the present multi-thousand dollar structure on Campbell Avenue, in the past 55 years.

A look at "A History of Campbell," compiled by Theodore A. Cutting, who now lives in Los Altos, near Weitzenberg, reveals that the first postoffice in Campbell was in the home of the founder of the town. In 1886, a year later, Charles Berry, Southern Pacific agent, moved the postoffice to his box car depot on the railroad tracks.

It was moved back to Campbell Avenue to the site of the present Carl Field Store by Mrs. Sutter's brother, Charles L. Willet, who had the general store at that time.

Weitzenberg, who followed as postmaster, moved the location to the site of the present Parker House by the railroad tracks.

Next postmaster was A. P. Merrill, whose son, Ed C. Merrill is present city treasurer. Merrill operated from the telephone building where Verle Grizzle now has his jewelry shop.

D. H. Coates, Mrs. Meta Waiten, and Mrs. Lottie Miracle followed as postmasters in the Curry building, former location of the American Trust bank.

When Harry Smith took over, the postoffice was moved to its present location on Campbell Avenue.

Present Postmaster Ira Grim, who followed Smith in 1926 reports that since 1942, the volume of business has jumped 500 percent.

"As of January this year," said Grim, "We handled 20,000 pieces of mail as against 3,500 pieces in 1942. Postal receipts are up, too, from $762.69 ten years ago, to the present $4,775.05," he said.

Approximately 23,000 Campbell area residents today receive their mail promptly and efficiently by the local postoffice staffed by carriers William Burch, Donald Rice, Richard Bibeau, Hugh Nelson, Raymond McVea, and Maurice Crofort, who cover a radius of two and one half miles from the postoffice.

These carriers are assisted by clerks Alvin R. Carter, John Hummel, Leo Ryan, and subclerks Virginia Dolanski, Cecile Schad, Glenn Knowles and Gladys Sprecher.

Substitute rural carriers for Yeager and Smith are Jarvis Stephens and Kendall Clark. The entire operation is under the direction of Postmaster Ira Grim and Asistant Postmaster Ray Wood.

The 25-mile routes are gone, the horse and buggy are things of the past, gone are most of the unpaved roads, and the orchards are dotted with subdivisions, but the motto of the U. S. Postal Service: "Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor dark of night shall stay these couriers in the swift completion of their appointed rounds," will always have a special meaning in Campbell—for here its first and most successful trial proved its worth to the nation.

Dear Mom,

Graduation this weekend is your last "Holiday" of the Spring. I hope folks order early so you won't be too rushed.

Remember to have a lot of little inexpensive orchids on hand for their "first orchid" corsage.

Be seeing you often while I'm at T.I.—then to Guam.

Tommy.

CHRYSLER SARATOGA 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

DON'T LET YOUR WIFE DISCOVER THIS TOO LATE!

Women by the thousands are discovering in the beautiful Chrysler Saratoga the easiest "big car" of all to handle . . . the most generously comfortable to ride in . . . and the most instantly responsive to their command.

That's why we say to you . . . and your wife . . . "Come in and see for yourselves what the Saratoga does for you." And do it now, before you decide on any car . . . not later, when you may regret not having all the things you can have in a Saratoga!

Yes, it is a big car with big car power . . . a breath-taking 180 H.P. performer (the most revolutionary V-8 engine in 25 years) that answers to the touch of your toe with delightful gusto. And it doesn't call for premium fuel, either!

Does your wife think there's too much car here to handle? . . . let her try its Power Steering that does 4/5 of all the steering work and gives five times greater control on the road and when parking!

Is she safety-minded? Chrysler Power Brakes give her quicker, safer stops . . . with up to two-thirds less foot pressure. She'll appreciate Chrysler's Safety-Cushion dash panel. And in case of a blow-out, she'll have the assurance of Safety-Rim wheels that won't "throw" a tire.

How about comfort? Come, both of you, for a ride! . . . feel how those amazing Oriflow shock absorbers "liquidate" even the worst road bumps. Chair-high seats plus big, big windows let even the tiniest little lady see out properly. Doors open wide . . . and she can keep her hat on!

Here, in short, is the car beautifully designed for men and women. The liveliest, best handling car in America. The car you'll both be glad you saw first. Why not stop in today?

NOTE: Power Steering standard on Crown Imperial. Available, extra, on any new Chrysler.

HELP YOUR PLANTS' GENERAL HEALTH WITH PROPER FERTILIZER MIXTURES

June is a good time to fertilize for Campbell gardeners. You can tell pretty well what your garden soil needs as you get on with your gardening and the plants come up. If something seems to be wrong—if you have small flowers, weak stems, poor root growth, leaves lacking a rich green color—check back over the description of the needed chemical elements and what they do. You can then decide what is needed.

When bulb shoots are six to eight inches high, put fertilizer in a ring around the bulb, about two ounces to each bulb, if a fertilizer has not been put in at the time of planting. Bulbs like bone meal at planting time. You can use it freely. A fertilizer should be mixed with the soil in the bottom of the hole where the bulb is planted.

ANNUALS AND PERENNIALS

Scatter around each plant, and uniformly over the flower bed, watering well afterwards.

ROSES

Roses like cultivated soil with plenty of humus. If the soil needs humus, add peat moss. When the buds start to form, put a half cup of commercial fertilizer around the bush, making sure that you keep it off the leaves and away from the stalk. Six to eight inches from the stalk is a safe distance. Always apply water.

Ornamental Trees & Shrubs

For shrubs, follow the rule for Roses. If you are in doubt as to what chemical element is needed most, play safe with a complete commercial ferilizer containing the chief plant foods. Water throughly.

It is harder to tell when a tree nedes fertilizing. This is because a tree's roots spread so far, thus reaching more places where food can be absorbed. Each year, spread fertilizer around the tree about two or three feet from the trunk, depending on the size of the tree. Distribute a pound for every year of the tree's age. After ten years, you can keep the amount down to about 15 pounds.

As your plants begin to blossom, help their flowers, growth and general health along with commercial fertilizers, containing phosphorous and potassium besides nitrogen. Concentrated preparations of manure may be used at this time, too.

If you would like to know a lot about fertilizers, you can get information from the State Agricultural Experiment station, or from the fertilizer companies.

GRAPHIC TEACHING STARTS HERE AT CAMPBELL SCHOOL DISTRICT

Education for intelligent citizenship is one of the main aims of a new pilot course in social studies being concluded this week by Campbell Grammar school eighth graders.

The course is an attempt to vitalize and enrich the study of American History, to make it more than an accumulation of facts and dates which characterizes mere "book larnin'." By organizing study around broad themes, capitalizing on student interests and student directed activities, the new course tries to give significance and meaning to aspects of America's heritage.

In the Unit "Understanding Other People," for instance, one student committee interviewed class members to find nationalities ties and races represented. The committee presented its findings in a mural that graphically brings out the many nationalities and cultures pouring into the stream of American life.

While the method of study covers the same material, brings out the same facts as former study, it presents them in more meaningful context. The "Westward Movement" study directed student attention to the color and vitality of frontier life and the impression it left on the national mind.

CANCER DRIVE SHY OF GOAL, SAYS LEADER

With slightly more than $23,000 subscribed, the 1952 Cancer Crusade in Santa Clara County still is considerably shy of its goal, County Chairman Joe E. Levitt reported yesterday as he called upon all community leaders for a final effort to put the drive over the top.

"Our vital threefold program of Education, Research and Service requires that we in this county raise $30,000 toward the national goal of $16,000,000," Levitt stated. "This is a comparatively small amount of money, both locally and nationally, considering the importance of the work being done."

The drive leader emphasized, however, that 70,000 cancer victims were saved last year and that thousands of others can be saved through early diagnosis and treatment. Community chairmen assisting Levitt are William Corsiglia, Gilroy; Robert Rice, Morgan Hill; Dan Smith, Los Gatos and Saratoga; Mrs. Richard Morton, Campbell, and others.

Following treatment at Stanford Lane Hospital in San Francisco, Mr. Gray was recuperating at his home when internal hemorhages again hospitalized him. He was 51 years old.

He had been a Campbell resident for the past four years.

Funeral was held Saturday in San Jose. Interment was at Oak Hill cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Violet M. Gray, San Jose; two sons, Kenneth L. Gray, Los Gatos, and Clarence J. Gray, San Jose. He had three grandsons and one granddaughter.

MRS. NELSON ON BOARD FOR GUIDE DOGS

Mrs. Edward Nelson, 646 Robin Lane, and Mrs. Henry Frank of Los Gatos are among new appointments to the Advisory Board, announced at the annual meeting of Guide Dogs for the Blind.

Re-appointed were Mrs. Edith Cannon of Los Altos, Alex J. Hart, Jr., Mrs. M. E. Haskins, and F. C. Mitchell of San Jose.

William F. Johns, executive director of this non-profit organization which serves the blind, stated that 54 man-dog units had been provided during the current fiscal year—18 women and 36 men, seven of them veterans, receiving guide dogs, together with the four weeks intensive residence training, without charge. Sixteen graduates, or 31 percent, came for replacements because their guide dogs had died or become too old to work.

Fire Prevention Committee Commends Campbell Fire Chief Jack B. Scott

Edward C. Merrill, Campbell fire commissioner and City Treasurer of the City of Campbell received the following letter from Jay W. Stevens, chairman of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, commending Campbell Volunteer Fire Chief J. B. Scott for his work in connection with fire prevention during 1951.

Dear Mr. Merrill:

"As chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee of the International Association of Fire Chiefs it is my pleasure to write concerning the activity of your Fire Chief, J. B. Scott, in connection with the fire prevention drive designed to save the lives of 4,000 little children from fire.

It is the purpose of the Committee representing the International Fire Chiefs to try to reach the American people through a fire prevention inspection of each of the fifty million homes throughout America. All of the more progressive fire chiefs, of which we consider your fire chief one, assisted in this campaign. Great headway was made, with some outstanding results.

In commending your chief and his department for their work we express the hope that he is continuing the work this year and doing an even better job than during 1951.

Jay W. Stevens

Local People Leaders In Mental Health Clinic

A number of Campbell, Los Gatos and Saratoga people are among the leaders of the Adult and Child Guidance Clinic, with headquarters in the Porter Building, San Jose, which is conducting a county-wide campaign for funds.

Don S. Fuller of San Jose and Los Gatos, president of the Santa Clara County Mental Health Service, sponsoring the Clinic, said yesterday that a minimum of $25,000 is needed.

Mrs. Reginald L. Vaughan of Los Gatos is vice-president and Mrs. Norman Dolloff of Saratoga is secretary of the Mental Health Service. Ivar Sivertsen of Los Gatos is a member of the board of directors and residents of this general area on the advisory board include Raymond J. Fisher, Laurance J. Hill, Mrs. Percy T. Hincks, Dr. Horace G. Jones, Rev. Gordon L. King, Mrs. J. Emmett McAlinden, Mrs. Ansten R. Ness, Patrick H. Peabody, Dr. C. C. Smith, George J. Stepovich and Daniel Ungaro.

Mental and emotional illness is the nation's number one health problem, Fuller declared, and the fight against this menace will be won or lost on the community level.

"Our Clinic is spearheading the fight in this county for prevention and early cures," he continued. "It has carried on valiantly for four years on a bare minimum of funds. It is entirely non-profit, but receives no tax money nor community welfare assistance. Therefore, its future, as a privately operated clinic, in contrast to a government controlled agency, depends upon the voluntary financial support of the people of Santa Clara County."

The Clinic has a long waiting list, Fuller said. "It is filling a vital need and saving our community from the tragic loss of many wasted lives and many thousands of dollars,' 'he added.

Fuller has asked all those willing to help who have not been solicited to mail contributions to the Adult and Child Guidance Center, Porter Building, San Jose.

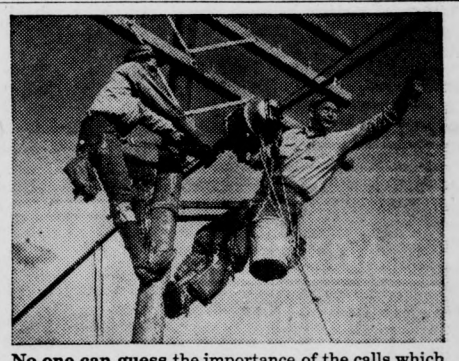
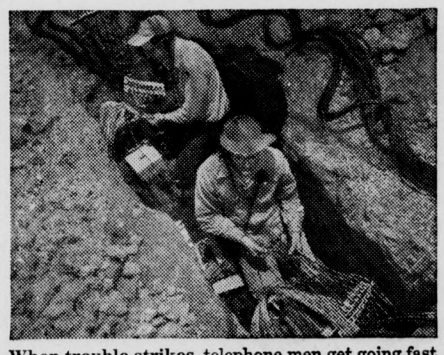
The capable hands of telephone operators are ready to put your calls through—when and where you want.



No one can guess the importance of the calls which will flow through the cable these linemen are installing.



When trouble strikes, telephone men get going fast to keep your telephone always at your service.

Making it pleasant for you to do business with us is the aim of our business office people who serve you.

Their work keeps our nation united

75,000 Pacific Telephone people are helping make us a nation of neighbors

Perhaps never before has every job done by the men and women on the telephone team been so important to our country. In countless ways, our nation is using the telephone to get things done faster—in defense plants, among our armed forces, on the everyday jobs of all Americans. One of the reasons why we can outproduce any other country is that we have more telephone service, and better telephone service. This service would be impossible without the skill and devotion of the people who work to provide it.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

In 1951, our total wage costs came to more than a quarter of a billion dollars—nearly four times that of ten years ago. Yet in spite of higher wages, higher taxes, higher costs of everything we need to provide service, we've kept telephone rates one of the best buys in your budget today.

Re-routing Long Distance circuits is one of the many interesting telephone jobs for women . . . 48,000 women in the West. And that they like their jobs is demonstrated by the length of time they have stayed in telephone work—longer than seven years, on the average. Among telephone men, the average length of service is now nearly twelve years. Together, telephone men and women account for more than two-thirds of our total operating expenses (in wages, benefits and provision for service pensions). We do all we can to make telephone jobs good jobs . . . the kind that attract and keep the capable people so important to good telephone service.

GARDENERS HAVE BUSY MONTHLY WORK SCHEDULE

An important secret of garden success lies in knowing what needs to be done each month. Gardeners should have a notebook of last year's garden record so that the facts for the present month are available when needed.

Chief work in June is maintenance. Water, cultivate, remove spent flowers. Pinch back Chrysanthemums for bushy growth. Cut back Delphiniums to ground and water them. Divide, replant Bearded Iris. Prune spring flowering deciduous shrubs early this month. Roses may be planted this month from pots.

Trees. Watch for pests. Borers may be at work on your Pines, Cypress and Thuya.

In limited space, it may be necessary to remove bulbs before leaves all wither. Tuberous Begonias may still be planted. Prune Climbing Roses vigorously after blooming, removing old blooms, cutting out weak growth, cutting back canes to within three buds of main stem. Prune Rose bushes in California gardens, removing superflous growth.

Cultivate soil deeply to conserve moisture during dry season. Keep Roses sprayed or dusted for mildew control.

Give Rhododendrons and Azaleas plenty of water this month. Put mulch of half-decayed leaves around roots. Hydrangeas need much water now. Dig in decayed manure around roots. Prune back Mock Orange, Lilacs, Spriaea, Kerria and other spring flowering shrubs. Dig in plant food; keep well watered. Examine for pests; spray.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Opinions on any matter pertaining to the development and advancement of the Campbell community are welcomed by the Campbell Press, whether they be in accord with the editorial policy of the newspaper or not.—Ed.

Letter to the Editor,
Campbell Press
Dear Sir:

I am opposed to the 60-cent tax raise which is being voted upon by the people of Moreland School District as the Campbell Press is being delivered, Thursday, June 12, 1952.

The "5 cents a day" cost to the taxpayer, amounts to $18.25 per year according to my arithmetic. In itself it may not be much to worry about, but when you add it to the swiftly rising other taxes, it becomes something to worry about.

The following is a news item which appeared in the San Jose Mercury on Tuesday, November 6, 1951, quoted in full:

"RETIRED MAN PROTESTS TAXES, SUPERVISORS OFFER SYMPATHY. Frank Hood, retired Henry Ave. resident, who saw President Harry Truman's Missouri farm sold for delinquent taxes, may see his own home sold for similar reasons, he told the Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon while protesting his tax bill.

"'That's what Jackson County did to the Truman farm, I know. I was there when they did it. Back in Missouri, that is,' Hood said.

"Hood protested he was unable to pay his tax bill for $118.16—$22 higher than last year—because his only income is a $101.40 monthly government retirement check.

"In pointing out there was nothing it could do, the board called attention to the fact that only $38 of the $118 tax was for county taxes. The rest was for Moorpark School District taxes with a rate of $2.59, and lesser amounts for lighting, water conservation and fire protection district taxes.

"When Hood said he had not voted in the school bond election, Supervisor E. O. Wool observed, 'The others voted a mortgage on your home.'

"Hood said he wouldn't mind paying his taxes, if he had the money, 'but I haven't the jack. What am I going to do?'

"A suggestion he see Assessor Hayden W. Pitman was made, but Hood said he had been to see Pitman, who had directed him to the supervisors."

Mrs. L. E. Nickelson

To the Editor,
Campbell Press.
Sir:

Many thanks for the use of your public forum column last week, and for publishing my contribution in full. It is the hope of this writer that more people will make use of your columns to express themselves on subjects of wide interest, such as the Moreland School District tax election June 12.

A display ad in the Press set forth, among other things, I noted, the fact that a kindergarten had been turned down in the new El Quito School. The school authorities have changed their minds since last Thursday. In a bulletin mailed to school children's parents the uses to which the added tax money will be devoted now include the El Quito kindergarten.

This is commendable, but indicates a somewhat elastic tendency to promise anything that might mollify and secure the votes of El Quito people. This is a good example of political expediency.

Parents of school children have been bombarded with threatened loss of many services and facilities if the board does not get the added tax money. The writer wishes to comment on just a bare few of these.

Parents, when able, are responsible for feeding their children. Surely they have no objection to paying for the children's subsistence on a basis that will enable the school cafeteria to break even. Or, the children can carry approved lunches. Why should the taxpayer at large pay for feeding someone else's child? If people of this district are frightened by the threat to increase the cost of lunches so that the cafeteria may pay its own way—they should be more frightened by the mortgage they will place on their homes through voting increased taxes.

School authorities threaten to do away with the school music program and orchestra if we don't vote the added tax. It has been expressed by more than one parent that this can be done without seriously effecting the happiness of the child or its parents. A neighbor has comented that their boy is studying an instrument at Moreland school; that the boy hangs up his instrument when he comes home—and goes out to play; that he doesn't touch it until the time arrives to take it to school again for another session. When he goes to high school he will be more mature. RELEASE THAT TEACHER SO SHE CAN TAKE A REGULAR CLASS!

The leading article in June's Reader's Digest deals with taxes. It tells us that when the income is taxed more than 25 percent, the situation is critical. All taxes included, they tell us that we are now being taxed 32 percent of our income.

Efficiency is economy, and there is no reason why the educators shouldn't take a hitch in their figurative belts. We have.

YOU HAVEN'T HEARD THE HALF OF IT!!

Remember the tax increase pattern. If we vote the proposed increase in our School District tax rate now—next will come the impact of the levy plus increased assessed valuation. What will this double-barrelled charge do to our tax bills?

Legislation is now pending which will relieve school districts through increased State Aid.

Vote NO—and wait while the situation is studied by the majority who pay the taxes.

Voters of this district have not been properly informed as to the way the additional tax money will be spent.

We Should Not Act In Haste!

Vote NO! Vote NO!

SCHOOL ATHLETICS FACE CHANGES WITH LOSS OF SENIOR GRADUATES

With the class of 1952 preparing to depart the athletic activities of the local high school tomorrow, to win greater laurels in colleges, universities or to face the struggles of a busy business world, a review of the season's athletic accomplishments show their winning calibre.

1952 saw the newly organized swim team under Coach Fred Gugat splash to a second place position in the Santa Clara Valley Athletic league finals. Season's record holders include Ron Gilpatrick who raced to a tie in the 50-yard freestyle with Dick Lindstrom of Santa Clara. His time in the 100-yard freestyle is the best in the league. 1:04.3. Jimmy Merritt holds the league record in the 200 yard freestyle with a time of 2:32.

BASEBALLERS HAD 12 WINS

In SCVAL league play, the horsehiders topped four opponents while losing three, to tie for third place in league standings.

Coach Miskulin said he thought the best games of the season were against Mountain View and James Lick high schools in league play, and Tech, Menlo-Atherton in non-league contests.

The locals whipped the Washington Huskies for the first time in history. Larry Perreira ended the season as number two league hitter, logging a .429.

Duane Burrow was the team leader for runs batted in, runs scoerd, hits, batting average.

Dick Farruggia is to receive the perpetual award for the most improved player of the year.

CIVIL DEFENSE LIGHT SYSTEM TO WARN CITIES

With the new "bell and light" California Civil Defense system, all that will be required to flash an instantaneous alarm throughout the entire state will be a simple flick of the wrist, according to Major General Walter M. Robertson, State Director of Civil Defense.

Operators on 24-hour duty in twelve key points scattered all through the state will dial a code figure on a specially-designed instrument on receipt of the alert from the Air Forces' Western Air Defense headquarters. The signal will be carried over special circuits to actuate indicator lights and coded bell signals in receiving points in communities served by the system.

From that stage, however, it is strictly up to local government to determine the means and extent of spreading the alert to the public, General Robertson emphasized.

Whether such installations as schools, hospitals, industrial plants, and public utilities should receive the alert, or whether the local community uses its own alert system or extends the state circuit, is purely a matter of local discretion—and financing—he pointed out.

JOBS STILL PLENTIFUL FOR GRADS

The graduate looking for a job these days doesn't have to look very far—unless he is very fussy. And that goes for the girls, too. The job market is still a happy hunting ground for the young man or woman ready to set out on a career.

Getting a job may be easy, but the important thing is what is done with it. A person can be hired on his recommendations, but he wil get ahead only on what he produces.

Probably the most importan thing for the graduate is to determine the type of business he feel he will like best and for which h believes himself most suited. Ther he should stay with that line unless he finds that his choice of it was a mistake.

The growth of business and industry in California has opened virtually limitless possibilities for young people. Here we have the world's largest bank and many other companies whose interests extend throughout the world. The youngster can go just as far and as fast as his ability and energy will carry him. And again, we must point out that this applies pretty generally to women as well as men

To the graduates in smaller communities it might be said that before dashing off to the cities for work, the opportunities in their home towns should first be studied. Branch office work or experience in small concerns often provides a broader training for higher posts than the highly detailed work in city offices.
